

Guidelines for the paper report

Your paper report should be at most 2 pages long, typed with font size 12, with margins no smaller than 1 inch.

The report should include the following sections. Please, use bold subheadings to indicate each section.

- Title of paper, authors, affiliations
- General intent: Describe the general intent of the article. What is the rationale behind the work? Why is the problem important?
- Background: Present background information as needed to report and discuss the main results.
- Results: Present the main results of the paper. Results can be theorems, equations or (quantitative) experimental findings. You do not need to present all results. Only the main results.
- Discussion: Discuss the results. Why are they relevant/important? What do they imply? Any limitations/drawbacks?

Note: your oral presentation can follow the same organization of your report.
