Hi, everybody,

The semester starts Monday. So have a nice relaxing weekend and then begin reading on my website:

www.math.uh.edu/~dog

The two earlier emails are there, too. I'll have my snowman up on Tuesday and I'll send an email about that. I have not yet heard from my grader so that'll be news for early next week, too.

I won't be doing email Monday because I've got Houston Mobile Vet at the house doing work on a couple of my dogs (including a surgery -- nothing life threatening, though). So I'll come in Tuesday am and look for emails from you on a priority.

The snowman assignment is due Wednesday. Chapter 2 homework is due shortly, too. All the calendar and due dates are on my website.

I am looking forward to our course!

Ms. Leigh
