

University of Houston AMS Student Chapter

Department of Mathematics

presents

From UH Math Degree to NASA Flight Controller

Friday, November 17

3:00pm-4:00pm

Location: PGH 232

Sophia Mela, UH alumna and undergraduate math major, will tell us about her journey from learning mathematics in the classrooms of UH to her job as a NASA flight controller and astronaut trainer.

All Faculty members and students at all levels of their academic careers are encouraged to come.

Snacks will be served at the event!

More info at www.math.uh.edu/uams